

Data Management

DM&T can manipulate and move data in any format format, convert it to the desired layout and transport it on the desired platform.

We can automate data integration and provide monitoring services to ensure mission critical data is not delayed.

Data Integration

DM&T can provide the customised expertise to seamlessly integrate B2B and internal data needs. Our developers can synchronise data movements between databases and operational entities.

Document Management

The increasing demand on businesses to go “green” is increasing the need for efficient file movement between large corporations. Our data services provide a cost effective means of achieving this.

Whether it is EDI, Web Services, Secure FTP, or any other method, we can provide the resources to achieve cost effective file movement.
